

By working at Sika I'm part of something important and – with every action I do – I contribute to a more sustainable future.

Sofia Velasquez
P&M Engineer TM Flooring

When something is created - either in construction or industry markets - our solutions for bonding, sealing, reinforcing and protecting are almost always included. We trust in the skills of our 27'000 employees worldwide and encourage them to develop innovative products to tackle the new challenges that arise every day. Our Corporate Technical Department is responsible for developing technical communication and corporate certifications. To complete this team in Warsaw/Poland we are currently looking for a

CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY CERTIFICATION SPECIALIST

Exciting Challenges

- Develop and implement a strategy on how to approach sustainable construction or “green building” certifications, sustainability-related building code requirements and environmental labels on a global level.
- Track and communicate changes in the field of sustainable construction certifications in countries.
- Advise the corporate organisation on how to approach and select sustainability and environmental certification.
- Advise on sustainability-related requirements for new product developments in the corporate organisation.
- Manage processes for obtaining, maintaining and distributing sustainability and environmental certificates with an internal support team.
- Manage the collaboration with external partners for testing for environmental declarations and for LCA calculations.
- Provide internal training and maintain regular communication about sustainability certification and environmental labels.

We Need Your Skills

- Master’s or bachelor’s degree in chemistry, environmental sciences or other sustainability-related studies.
- Min. 2-3 years work experience in sustainable construction certification or sustainability certification
- Advanced English skills
- Well-structured way of working and high self-motivation
- Excellent communication skills and motivating nature

Building Trust Every Day

- Trust is the foundation of everything we do at Sika: we trust in the competence and capabilities of all our employees – every day.
- Built on a foundation of pioneering and entrepreneurial spirit, Sika empowers its people to propose and develop new ideas.
- For such a large company, we have a surprisingly flat hierarchy with direct decision-making processes and decentralized organizational units.

Sika is a great employer - especially for people who are interested in communicating across cultures and shaping sustainability certification at Sika. To find out more about what it's like to work for Sika please follow the link to our career page (www.sika.com/career).
